UNITED STATES BANKRUPTCY COURT
FOR THE SOUTHERN DISTRICT OF OHIO
EASTERN DIVISION

In re: : Case No. 05-62731
Keesha P. Thompson, : Chapter 13
Debtor. : Judge Charles Caldwell

ORDER DENYING DEBTOR'S MOTION TO ORDER LENDER ADJUST BOOKS AND RECORDS REGARDING DEBTOR'S REAL ESTATE (DOC. NO. 60)

Debtor Keesha Thompson filed a “motion to adjust” with the Court, requesting an order requiring her lender, US Bank Home Mortgage, “show upon its books and records that Debtor has paid all arrearages, interests, costs, expenses and claims....” In support of her motion, Debtor pleads a number of facts regarding the status of her mortgage payments as according to US Bank’s mortgage statement provided to Debtor. Ultimately, Debtor calls upon the Court to require US Bank to adjust its schedules, disburse monies from a “suspense account,” and recalculate its balance amounts.

Upon review, the Court cannot grant Debtor's motion. Debtor does not plead a plausible claim predicated upon any statutory or procedural basis. See Ashcroft v. Iqbal, 556 U.S. ___, 129 S. Ct. 1937, 1951–52 (2009) (holding that pleadings must "plausibly suggest an entitlement to relief."). Here, Debtor has issue with her lender's accounting procedures; however, there is no basis by which Debtor's issue can be resolved. See 11 U.S.C. § 506; Fed. R. Bankr. P. 7001(2) (declaring that adversary proceedings are necessary to determine the value of a lien); 11 U.S.C. § 524(i) (providing for sanctions against creditors who violate the stay injunction upon a showing of "material injury" to the debtor). After a searching inquiry of Debtor's motion, no basis exists for Debtor to be provided the order she seeks.

Accordingly, Debtor's motion to adjust is DENIED.
